Ms. Aumann's Notes...

Week 33 - ALLELUIA! ALLELUIA! HAPPY EASTER SEASON! I love being able to celebrate the RISEN Christ! The countdown is on! The end of school is nearing and the calendar is filling up with events. This was PROJECT week! The students had a lot of work time to complete their research paper, the character coat of arms, and their biome ball project. It seemed to work well to give the students big blocks of work time.

Curriculum Notes

Religion-We started the week off with Father Rodney's last religion class for the year. The students wrote out questions for him to answer -like a Q & A session. A lot of the questions were about the priesthood. Very interesting class with Father Rodney! We discussed the divinity of Jesus as we worked our way through chapter 7. Lastly, we read and discussed the Sunday Gospel (John 20:19-31), and we learned about Divine Mercy Sunday. What a beautiful image in our faith.

Vocabulary- Last week for stepping away from vocabulary book. We will be back at it next week. Our vocab word count stands at 6,763 words. Keep going, 7th grade!

English-The students spent A LOT of time writing their research papers. They are due on Monday evening. I would encourage you to be their editor. They have spent a lot of time writing, and an extra pair of eyes helps catch those spelling and grammar edits.

Reading-We worked on the character coat of arms for our culminating activity. The students picked a character and thought about their characteristics by answering creative questions. Come see them at the curriculum fair!

Science-We worked on our Biome Dodecahedron Ball. Students researched a terrestrial or an aquatic biome and created a 3-D ball. Come see them at the curriculum fair!

Have a great weekend! Thanks for always supporting SHS. It is truly appreciated.
